SANT FRANCESC HOTEL

OVERLOOKING THE BASILICA DE SANT FRANCESC, THIS ELEGANT RETREAT OFFERS A CENTRAL BASE FOR EXPLORING PALMA'S HISTORIC STREETS, GALLERIES AND RESTAURANTS

» Sant Francesc Hotel occupies a 19th-century mansion in Palma's Old Town, directly opposite the Basilica de Sant Francesc. The property has 42 rooms and suites, with contemporary interiors set against the original character of the building.

Art is central to the hotel's identity, with works by Spanish artists displayed throughout the property. Among the collection is an exclusive piece by Josep Maria Riera i Aragó. The design continues across the public spaces, from the Lobby Bar and seasonal Quadrat restaurant to the Singular Rooftop, which provides a spot to sit above the rooftops of the Old Town.

The rooms are designed with a similar balance of comfort and understated style. Superior rooms measure 25m², with some overlooking the hotel garden or a quieter Majorcan courtyard. The hotel also provides a base for exploring Mallorca beyond Palma.

Cycling enthusiasts can make use of the partnership with Medfeel Premium Cycling, which offers organised routes across the island. From coastal roads to mountain trails, the excursions give guests the opportunity to see more of Mallorca by bike.

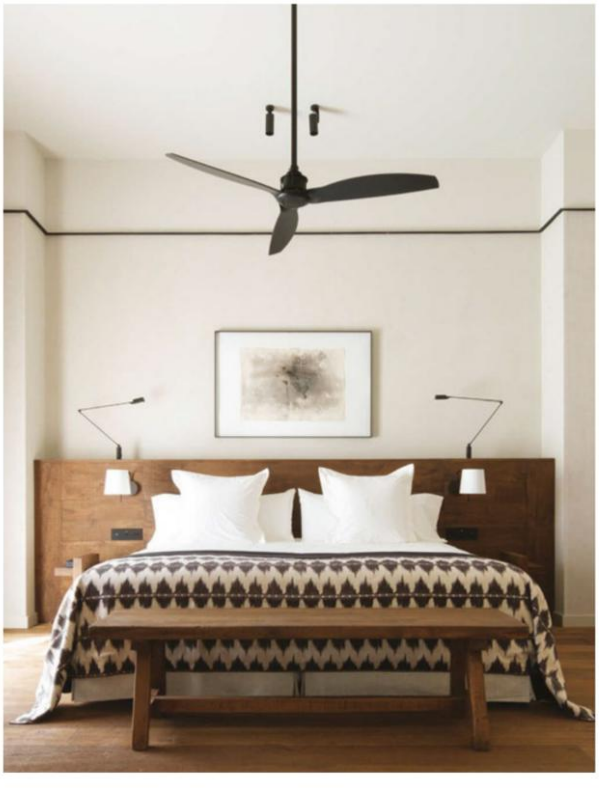

With its central Old Town location, strong art collection and cycling offering, Sant Francesc Hotel works equally well for a short Palma stay or as a base for discovering more of Mallorca. IP

CAN FERRERETA

A RESTORED 17TH-CENTURY MANSION IN SANTANYÍ PROVIDES A SERENE SETTING FOR SLOW DAYS, SEASONAL FOOD AND MEDITERRANEAN-INSPIRED WELLNESS

» Located in a charming town on Mallorca's south-east coast, Can Ferrereta is a 17th-century mansion turned five-star retreat. Set slightly inland from more than 48km of coastline, the hotel provides a peaceful base for discovering the island's beaches while offering plenty of reason to stay close to home.

The former manor house retains its original stone walls, rustic wooden beams and generous proportions, complemented by light, contemporary interiors. Its 32 rooms and suites have a calm, residential feel, with high ceilings, wooden floors and spacious stone bathrooms. Outside, a central garden framed by cypresses and olive trees surrounds the swimming pool.

At SA CALMA Spa, Mediterranean-inspired treatments draw on the character of Mallorca, creating a tranquil space for rest and relaxation. Art is another defining feature, with the Soldevila Ferrer family's collection of works by local and Spanish artists displayed throughout the hotel.

Food focuses on the island's produce at OCRE, where seasonal Mediterranean dishes make use of ingredients sourced locally, including produce from Santanyí's much-loved food market. Alongside its thoughtful design and wellness offering, the hotel's setting makes it easy to experience a quieter side of Mallorca.

Guests can also explore the surrounding town, known for its traditional market, independent shops and historic architecture. Whether spending the day by the pool or heading out to discover the coastline, Can Ferrereta offers a relaxed way to experience the island.

Beyond the spa and pool, guests can browse La Botiga, the hotel's Mediterranean-inspired boutique, or retreat to the library for books and music. For those keen to explore further, the hotel's cycling service offers quality bikes and local guides, with routes showcasing Mallorca's landscapes and cultural heritage. IP
